Purpose

The purposes of this research report are to identify:

- entities with financial reporting obligations under Federal, State and Territory legislation that are or may be affected by revisions to the financial reporting framework in Australia, including changes related to the removal of entities' ability to lodge special purpose financial statements (SPFS) where financial reporting is required by legislation, constitution or other document requirements¹, and
- the different categories of financial reporting requirements applicable to those entities and the types of entities subject to those requirements.

The analysis of the financial reporting requirements specified in legislation will also help in assessing the impact of the changes on Australian entities in the context of preparing the Impact Analysis.²

Approach and key observations

A comprehensive review of legislative and regulatory requirements was undertaken to identify financial reporting obligations of for-profit and not-for-profit private and public sector entities under Federal, State and Territory legislation.

The legislation and related documents were accessed from the authorised Federal, State and Territory government legislation websites, with careful attention paid to ensuring that the materials remain in force.³

Based on the analysis, 11 different categories of financial reporting requirements were identified. These categories distinguish the different types of obligations imposed by legislation, including requirements to prepare financial statements, financial reports or financial information, and the extent to which those requirements are linked to specified accounting standards or expressed more broadly using terms such as 'true and fair'. Together, these categories illustrate the complexity and lack of uniformity in financial reporting requirements across different types of entities and jurisdictions.

As the analysis has focused on identifying the various categories for the purpose of drafting the application paragraphs in the accounting standards, the analysis does not take into account circumstances in which an entity may be subject to multiple legislative requirements across different pieces of legislation.

- 1 Following the issuance of AASB 2020-2 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Removal of Special Purpose Financial Statements for Certain For-Profit Private Sector Entities in 2020, certain for-profit private sector entities are no longer permitted to prepare SPFS and are instead required to prepare general purpose financial statements (GPFS), supported by AASB 1060 General Purpose Financial Statements – Simplified Disclosures for For-Profit and Not-for-Profit Entities, which introduced a simplified disclosure framework. Similarly, following the issuance of AASB 2026-2 Australian Accounting Standards – Extending the Application of the Conceptual Framework and Limiting the Ability of Not-for-Profit Entities to Prepare Special Purpose Financial Statements, certain not-for-profit entities are no longer permitted to prepare SPFS and are required to prepare GPFS. The issuance of AASB 2026-2 is supported by AASB 1061 General Purpose Financial Statements – Not-for-Profit Private Sector Tier 3 Entities, which provides a simplified and proportionate Tier 3 reporting framework tailored to smaller not-for-profit entities.
 - 2 Paragraph 7.5.4 of the AASB Due Process Framework for Setting Standards states that when the Board has reached a general agreement on the technical matters in the project and considered the likely impact of the pronouncement, including the Regulation Impact Statement or similar document [a cost/benefit analysis]. The Regulation Impact Statement has since been superseded by the Impact Analysis.
 - 3 Regulators were consulted during the drafting of earlier editions, where, in cases of uncertainty in the initial results, their input was sought to confirm completeness and accuracy and their feedback was incorporated. For the latest edition (Edition 4), the legislations and related documents remain in force as at 30 May 2026.

The 11 categories identified in the analysis can be summarised as follows⁴:

1. Preparation of financial statements according to AASB Accounting Standards – legislation expressly requires the preparation of financial statements in accordance with AASB Accounting Standards.
2. Preparation of financial statements according to Australian Accounting Standards (AAS) or Accounting Standards (AS) – legislation requires the preparation of financial statements in accordance with AAS or AS, using terminology that does not explicitly refer to AASB Accounting Standards.
3. True and fair financial statements – legislation requires the preparation of financial statements that present a true and fair view, without necessarily referring to a specific accounting framework.
4. Preparation of financial statements providing a true and fair view of financial operations – legislation requires financial statements that provide a true and fair view of the financial operations.
5. Preparation of financial information according to AASB Accounting Standards, AAS or AS – legislation requires specified financial information, rather than financial statements or a financial report, and links that requirement to AASB Accounting Standards, AAS or AS.
6. Preparation of true and fair financial information – legislation requires financial information that presents a true and fair view but does not necessarily require a complete set of financial statements or a financial report.
7. Preparation of fair information – legislation requires the preparation of information described as fair, but without more specific references to financial statements, financial reports or a prescribed accounting framework.
8. Preparation of GPFS according to accounting principles/commercially accepted principles relating to accounting – legislation requires the preparation of GPFS in accordance with accounting principles or commercially accepted principles relating to accounting.
9. Preparation of financial statements – legislation requires the preparation of financial statements but does not specify a particular accounting framework or expressly require that the statements present a true and fair view or a prescribed accounting framework.
10. Financial information – legislation or regulation does not refer to the preparation of financial statements or a financial report but instead requires the preparation or provision of specified financial information.
11. Financial records/other – legislation or regulation requires the maintenance of financial records or certain financial information but does not require that this information be provided to a regulator or to a third party, including members of the entity.

This research report is an AASB staff exercise and, accordingly, it is possible that not every type of entity has been identified or included.

Table 1 below summarises the types of entities grouped under each category. Further details for each entity, including whether it would be captured by the application paragraphs of AAS, are provided in the Appendix.

4 Where the legislation or regulation does not refer to the preparation of financial statements or a financial report, the analysis identifies the required information as 'financial information' (see categories (5)–(7) and (10)). Financial information comprises specified statements (for example, an income and expenditure statement, balance sheet and other specifically identified information) or specified information (for example, financial information to be provided to the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA) via prescribed forms). Where the legislation or regulation requires the maintenance of financial records or certain financial information, but there is no requirement to provide such information to a regulator or to a third party (including members of the entity), this is identified as 'financial records/other' (category (11)).

Impact of the research on the AASB's removal of SPFS

Stage 1 – For-Profit Private Sector Financial Reporting Framework

The AASB considered a draft version of this Research Report in its meeting on 19 February 2019 when discussing which entities should be affected by Phase 2 of the Conceptual Framework project for for-profit private sector entities. Exposure Draft ED 297 Removal of Special Purpose Financial Statements for Certain For-Profit Private Sector Entities, which was released for public comment in August 2019, reflects the AASB's decisions made at the February meeting.

The AASB released AASB 2020-2 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Removal of Special Purpose Financial Statements for Certain For-Profit Private Sector Entities in March 2020. From 1 July 2021, certain for-profit private sector entities are no longer able to prepare SPFS. Instead, entities within the scope of AASB 2020-2 are required to prepare GPFS.

To support the removal of SPFS, the AASB also issued AASB 1060 General Purpose Financial Statements – Simplified Disclosures for For-Profit and Not-for-Profit Entities, which sets out a new stand-alone disclosure Standard. AASB 1060 replaces the current Reduced Disclosures Requirements framework (RDR) from 1 July 2021. AASB 1060 applies to all entities reporting under Tier 2 of the AASB's Differential Reporting Framework, which includes for-profit private sector entities that are no longer able to prepare SPFS and not-for-profit entities in both the private and public sectors currently preparing GPFS in accordance with the RDR framework.

Stage 2 – Not-for-Profit Private Sector Financial Reporting Framework

In November 2019, the Board commenced the planned second stage of its review of the Australian financial reporting framework, focusing on not-for-profit private sector entities. The Board exposed its intention to develop a further reporting tier and the removal of the ability to prepare SPFS by certain not-for-profit entities in AASB Discussion Paper Development of Simplified Accounting Requirements (Tier 3 Not-for-Profit Private Sector Entities) issued in September 2022.

In October 2024, the AASB issued AASB Exposure Draft ED 335 General Purpose Financial Statements – Not-for-Profit Private Sector Tier 3 Entities with its proposals of a Tier 3 accounting standard with simplified accounting requirements for smaller not-for-profit private sector entities. ED 334 Limiting the Ability of Not-for-Profit Entities to Prepare Special Purpose Financial Statements was also issued by the AASB at the same time with the Board's proposal to remove the ability for certain not-for-profit entities from preparing SPFS.

The AASB issued AASB 2026-2 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Extending the Application of the Conceptual Framework and Limiting the Ability of Not-for-Profit Entities to Prepare Special Purpose Financial Statements in June 2026. From 1 July 2029, certain not-for-profit entities are no longer able to prepare SPFS. Instead, entities within the scope of AASB 2026-2 are required to prepare GPFS.

To support the removal of SPFS, the AASB also issued AASB 1061 General Purpose Financial Statements – Not-For-Profit Private Sector Tier 3 Entities, which sets out the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure requirements for a new tier of reporting requirements

(Tier 3) applicable to certain not-for-profit private sector entities. AASB 1061 has been developed through applying a new approach and principles based on considering preparer costs and the information needs of users of GPFS to determine the requirements that are appropriate for Tier 3 entities. Tier 3 entities are not-for-profit private sector entities that are not publicly accountable and are not prohibited from applying AASB 1061 by legislation or their constituting document or another document.

This updated Research Report supports that work by providing an overview of the types of entities likely to be affected by AASB 2026-2 and assisting stakeholders in understanding the potential scope and implications of applying the new requirements. It also provides updated analysis of relevant legislation, regulations and reporting obligations across sectors.

APPENDIX

1. AASB Accounting Standards⁵

Category	Entity	Type	Act	Further details on reporting including qualifications or limitations applying	Whether the entity would be captured by application paragraphs of Australian Accounting Standards ⁶
AASB Accounting Standards True and Fair	Small foreign controlled proprietary company	For-profit	Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)	Financial report required if controlled by a foreign company and where the parent has not lodged consolidated financial statements with ASIC. ASIC relief available if the company is not part of a large group (see Instrument 2017/204)	Yes
AASB Accounting Standards True and Fair	Small proprietary company that undertakes crowd sourced funding	For-profit	Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)	Financial report required if a small proprietary company raises funds through the crowd-sourced funding (CSF) regime. Audit only required if the funds raised from all CSF offers are $3m or more	Yes
AASB Accounting Standards True and Fair	Small proprietary company on direction ⁷	For-profit	Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)	Financial report only required if directed by shareholders representing at least 5% of votes or by ASIC A direction may specify whether all or some AASB accounting standards are to be complied with	Yes if directed

⁶ The AASB has decided that it should be a matter for each regulator to decide how to interpret the relevant legislation in relation to 'true and fair' and whether compliance with AAS or AS is required under each legislation.

				statement or a cash flow statement in the foreign company's place of origin)
AASB Accounting Standards	Offer Information Statement for issue of a body's securities	For-profit	Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)	Entities issuing securities may do so by using an offer information statement instead of a prospectus if the amount of money to be raised, including all previously raised amounts, does not exceed $10 million. Offer information statements must include financial statements prepared in accordance with AASB Accounting Standards that cover a 12-month period and have a balance sheet date within the last 6 months before the securities are first offered (section 715).	Yes
AASB Accounting Standards True and Fair	Australian Financial Service Licensees	For-profit	Corporations Act 2001 (Cth)	Entities with an Australian Financial Service Licence (AFSL) are only required to prepare and lodge a true and fair profit and loss statement and balance sheet under section 989B of the Corporations Act 2001 . However, additional reporting requirements are imposed on those entities via ASIC Form FS 70 Australian financial services licensee profit and loss statement and balance sheet . ASIC Form FS 70 requires a licensee to prepare GPFS as either Tier 1 or Tier 2 depending on whether the licensee has public accountability or whether the licensee is one of the types of licensees specified by ASIC that must prepare Tier 1 GPFS. ⁹	Yes

13 According to the Associations Incorporation Act 2015 (WA) and the Associations Incorporation Regulations 2016 (WA), an incorporated association is a tier 1 association for a financial year if it has revenue below a prescribed amount (or below $500,000 if no amount is prescribed), or if the Commissioner has declared it to be a tier 1 association for that year. A tier 3 association is an incorporated association with revenue for the year equal to or above a prescribed amount (or $3,000,000 if no amount is prescribed). A tier 2 association is an incorporated association that is neither a tier 1 nor a tier 3 association for the financial year, or one declared by the Commissioner to be tier 2.

14 According to the Associations Act 2003 (NT) and the Associations Regulations 2004 (NT), A tier 2 incorporated association is one that, at the end of a financial year, has gross receipts exceeding $150,000, or gross assets exceeding $300,000, or holds a licence under the Gaming Machine Act 1995, or is a prescribed incorporated association or a member of a prescribed class. A tier 3 incorporated association is one that is an incorporated trading association, or that, at the end of a financial year, has gross receipts exceeding $500,000, or gross assets exceeding $1,000,000, or is subject to a declaration under section 101. A tier 1 incorporated association is any incorporated association that is not classified as either a tier 2 or tier 3 association.
